

Ina (Antonell) Giniso

September 4, 2019

Ina (Antonell) Giniso, beloved wife of the late Anthony Giniso, passed away peacefully on September 4, 2019 at the age of 86. She was born in New York, NY to Angela (Paletta) and Peter Antonell, and after several years, they moved to Yonkers, NY to the new family home, affectionately known as "1140."

Ina graduated from the High School of Commerce in Yonkers, began her long career with the New York Telephone Company, and married Anthony, her husband of 52 years. On their 50th Anniversary, their children and grandchildren were able to share in their joy and celebration, along with other family and friends, when Ina and Tony renewed their vows.

Outgoing, beautiful, lively and active, with a flair for the dramatic inherited from her father, Ina loved her family and friends, large gatherings, music and dancing. Her greatest dream was to become a Rockette, but at 82 she explained that she was just too short.

Instead she was determined to do the best job possible in all that she could do. A working woman when others were stay-at-home moms, Ina made it a point to participate as much as possible in her daughters' school and after-school activities while still being a dedicated employee. She loved spending time with and being actively involved in the lives of her children and grandchildren. Living in Sebastian, Florida many years, she was a committed volunteer at her church, in her community, and at the St Vincent de Paul Society and Thrift Shop, and she continued to fly to NY to spend important time with her growing family.

This past year Ina relocated to West Hartford, and became a well-known and loved member of the Brookdale Senior Living community. She is survived by her daughters Susan Giniso, Carole Sauter-DeCarlo, her son-in-law Vincent DeCarlo, her sister Margaret (Antonell) Skrobola and brother-in-law Robert Skrobola, 5 grandchildren, 7 great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews.
